

KBIS SMART HOME PAVILION

Millennials are increasingly demanding smart home solutions.
Moving forward, nearly all design projects must include technology integrated throughout homes and businesses.*

*National Kitchen & Bath Association (NKBA) 2022 Millennial Kitchen Technology Report

THE HUB FOR SMART HOME TECH

According to NKBA's 2022 Design Trends Report, only 30% of kitchen and 21% of bath projects currently include integrated technology features. The Smart Home Pavilion makes it easier for designers to experience and learn how they can incorporate smart home technology into their projects.

Located in the West Hall of the LVCC, the Smart Home Pavilion will feature smart home technology products and solutions from leading industry brands. Lighting, control systems, audio, video, energy management, smart water, security, environmental control, smart appliances, and connected devices will all be featured.

This area is the focal point on the show floor where designer, architects, builders can discover the latest home technology solutions for their clients.
